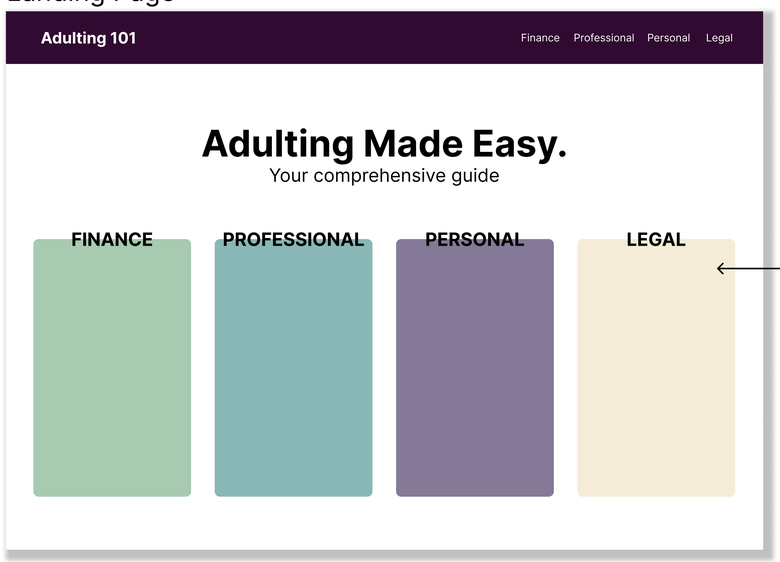
Adulting 101
INITAL MOCKUP

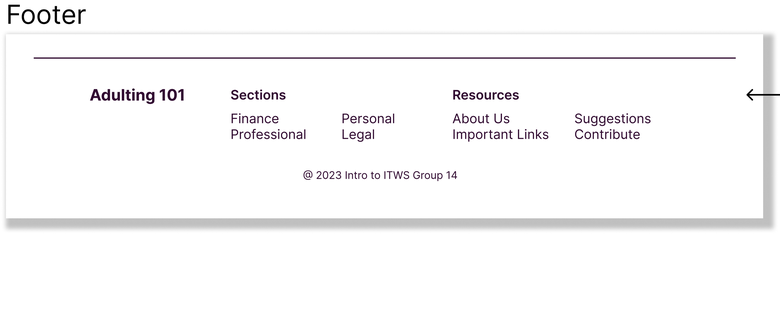
Landing Page

Navigation Bar
This is a simple navigation bar with the name of the website in the top right corner and names of each major section for the website on the top left. Each text area from the navbar will link to their respective pages, with the name of the website (“Adulting 101”) linking back to the landing page.



Section Boxes
These section box will contain a graphic/drawing depiciting each section of the website. The graphics will reflect the color theme for their repective sections and will lead a user to the right page on click.

Footer



Footer
This is the footer for the website. It will contain links to the separate pages of the website and additional links to other resources.

Sample Pages
There are two versions of the sample pages that we could use The only things that differ between the two are the formating of the sidebar. The first sample page depicts a sidebar that is sticky to the left side of the page with all links for that page visible. The second sample pages show a toggle to show/hide the side bar with links. This second page allows for more space on the page for text and information display.

Page Layouts
The layouts for all the pages on the website will be the same. Colors on each page will correspond to the theme colors of each section and users will be able to scroll down to page to see all the sections or click on the links in the side bar to jump to where they want to go. The information for each page can be displayed in whatever format is easiest to convey information (paragrpahs, lists, graphs, images, tables, etc.)
